WASHINGTON, June 4, 1869.

THE PERUVIAN MONITORS.

It is stated that the Spanish Minister has become uneasy about the slow progress of the Peruvian monitors towards home, especially since he has learned that Peru has recognized the belligerents in Cuba, and that a Cuban Envoy has arrived in Lima to ask the loan of the monitors. He accordingly called Secretary Fish's attention to these monitors, and said that he thought they were lying among the West India Islands longer than necessary. The Peruvian Minister informed Secretary Fish, in answer to these complaints, that the monitors would remain in the West Indies till late in the summer or winter, as that was the most favorable weather for their passage through the Straits of Magellan. This explanation, with the information that Peru had given bonds not to use the monitors to aid the Cubans, appeared to mollify the uneasiness of the Spanish Minister.

THE RECENT INDIAN OUTRAGES.

It is stated that the subject of the recent Indian outrages on Smoky Hill, Saline and Republican rivers, and on the line of the Kansas Pacific Railroad, in Kansas, has been earnestly considered by the President, Secretary of War, General Sherman, and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and the western Congressmen have urged immediate action for the protection of the frontier from depredatory bands of the Cheyennes and Sioux. Senator Ross called upon the President and recommended the propriety of stationary military garrisons along the frontier at proper points, and of furnishing additional troops for that purpose. The President stated that he was fully determined to take steps for the suppression of future depredations, and would follow his recommendation. He also said the necessary orders would be dispatched to General Schofield at once. All bands absent from their reservations will be treated in the nature of outlaws, and a Presidential proclamation to that effect will soon be promulgated.

BRICKLAYERS AND THE "COLORED" QUESTION.

The Bricklayers' Union, at a meeting last night, adopted resolutions for the immediate strike of bricklayers at the Navy Yard, unless two colored workmen there employed be dismissed.

CANDIDATES INTERROGATED.

The National Franchise Association has issued a circular asking candidates for municipal offices at the election, next Monday, whether they are in favor of the enfranchisement of women.

EMPLOYEES DISMISSED.

Several clerks and six out of nine watchmen at the Navy Department have been dismissed, owing to reduced appropriations by Congress.

REVENUE RECEIPTS.

The receipts of Internal Revenue, to-day, were over a million. The currency balance in the Treasury is about twenty-three millions.

PLATES DEMOLISHED.

The old National Currency plates were to-day reduced to solid steel in a furnace at the Navy Yard.

CLERKS REMOVED.

The Postmaster General has removed ten clerks in the Finance Bureau, and appointed others in their places.

RELIGIOUS.

The United Presbyterian General Assembly at Monmouth, Illinois.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MONMOUTH, Ill., June 4.—The United Presbyterian General Assembly adjourned at eleven o'clock last night. Much routine business was hurried through during the evening session.

The question of electing a General Financial Secretary was left over to the next Assembly, to be reported on by Presbyteries.

The Committe on Board of Church Extension recommend an appropriation of ten thousand dollars for the year. The report was adopted.

The Sabbath School Committee reported that the children had raised nearly $20,000 during the year. The report recommends that the contribution of the schools hereafter be appropriated toward supporting one or more new foreign missionaries. The report was adopted.

The minutes of the Assembly are to be published hereafter by the Board of Publication, under the superintendence of the clerks.

The place of meeting for the next Assembly was changed from the Second Church, Allegheny, to the First Church, Pittsburgh.

Among other votes of thanks accorded was one to the Associated Press for sending dispatches daily all over the country. The members leave hoping that the negotiations for union will result favorably, and that the Presbyterian Churches may soon be united in one.

State Convention of Universalists.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

READING June 3.—The Thirty-eighth Annual State Convention of the Universalist denomination convened here yesterday afternoon. Seven clergymen and twelve lay delegates were in attendance. A number of associations were represented. Rev. Moses Ballou, of Philadelphia, was selected President of the Convention. The main business was to secure a more permanent organization, and steps were taken to secure the appointment of a Financial Secretary, to exercise general supervision over the affairs of all the churches connected with the organization. Rev. Dr. Brooks, Hon. Henry Moore and Lewis Briner were elected delegates to the United States General Convention, to be held in Buffalo on the third Wednesday of September.

CINCINNATI.

Southern Railroad Project—Report of City Council Committee—Chattanooga Selected as the Terminus.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, June 4.—The City Council to-day adopted unanimously the following report of the Committee on the Southern Railroad:

"Your Committee, to whom was referred the Ferguson Railroad law, respectfully report that the importance of the proposed railway, the great interests affected thereby, the large sum authorized to be expended in prosecuting the enterprise, have received careful investigation. We are of the opinion that the immediate construction of a line of railway from Cincinnati to a central point in the South is highly essential to the interests of the city; that said railway should be constructed so as to make it as nearly as possible an air line, and terminate at a point where the greatest number of trunk lines of railways concentrate; that said railway should be built as speedily as consistent with the magnitude of the enterprise.

"We therefore recommend that the name of said railway be the Cincinnati Southern Railway, and that the southern terminus be at the city of Chattanooga, in the State of Tennessee.

"We have selected the city of Chattanooga as the southern terminus, believing that a line of railroad as nearly direct to that city as possible will fully realize the expectations and demands of the enterprise, and harmonize the largest number of local and general interests. The claims of Knoxville, and of the Nashville and Decatur routes, are in no manner to be ignored. On the contrary, railway connections with those cities should receive prompt encouragement from our citizens.

"In naming the terminus, and thus indicating the direction of the Southern Railway, it is with the belief that the grand intermediate line to Chattanooga will not only strike the key to the largest system of railways in the South, but will also secure connecting roads to Knoxville and Nashville, Tennessee, and Decatur, Alabama, and that the value of such connections will attract public and private capital to speedily complete them.

"In these opinions the Committees from the Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce concur. We extend our sincere acknowledgments for their assistance in obtaining the information that has led us to the foregoing conclusions."

Saturday, June 26th, is the day recommended for the people to vote for or against the road. It will have no opposition worth mentioning. Trustees to build the road will then be appointed. The Attorney General will at once bring the constitutionality of the Ferguson law before the Supreme Court on a writ of quo warranto. The following dispatch came after the action of Council:

Chattanooga, June 4—To His Honor, Mayor of Cincinnati: Chattanooga hails with joy the promise of her speedy union with the Queen City of the West. Sitting in her mountain home, where seven fertile valleys converge, and holding the key to the great system of Southern railroads, she will receive their wealth and pour it into the lap of her elder sister city. The action of Cincinnati to-day is the harbinger of relations which will bind the whole South to her in close ties of mutual friendship.

[Signed,] A. S. SHARPE, Mayor.

CHICAGO.

Vote on Lay Delegation in the Methodist Episcopal Church—New Excitement in the Episcopal Church—Military Gazette.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 4.—The total vote in this city so far as it has been taken, on the Lay Delegation question in the Methodist Episcopal Church, foots up five hundred and ninety-two for and fifty-six against the proposition. The vote in the Centenary Church, which has seven hundred members, was very small, being one hundred and sixty-one for and nineteen against. Out of the city the Evanston Church voted eighty-six for and eighteen against; Joliet, nineteen for and twenty-three against.

A new cause for excitement in the Episcopal Churches of this city has just been developed. It appears that on Monday Bishop Whitehouse notified Rev. Mr. Cheney, Rector of Christ Church, that he must cease the omission of the word "regenerate" in the baptismal service; but Mr. Cheney states that he cannot conscientiously use it. The Bishop has given him until next Monday to decide, and either to use the word or be degraded from the ministry. It is said Mr. Cheney's congregation warmly support him.

The following military intelligence was received at Sheridan's headquarters to-day:

In accordance with orders from the War Department, Gen. Thos. H. Ruger relinquishes the command of the Department of the South and the same has been assumed by Gen. A. H. Terry. Gen. Hancock has ordered that hereafter all officers of the army arriving at St. Paul will be expected to call at the headquarters of the commanding General, and register in a book provided for that purpose in the office of the Assistant Adjutant General their names, by what authority in the city, or on what duty, and their probable length of stay.

Presidential Party at Annapolis, Md.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 4.—President Grant, Postmaster General Cresswell, Attorney General Hoar, Secretary of the Interior Cox, Assistant Secretary of State Davis, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Cresswell and other ladies and distinguished persons, thirty in all, arrived this morning from Washington, and were received with a salute of twenty-one guns. The presentation of diplomas by the President to the graduating class, consisting of seventy-five, took place at eleven o'clock.

In the afternoon there was a boat race between the first and second classes, in which the boat of the former was swamped and the competitor made seven miles in twenty-one minutes twenty-three seconds, and a naval fight between dug outs, manned by midshipmen of the graduating class, each of whom were knocked overboard and one of the boats sunk. The crew gallantly escaped.

Death of Lord Broughton—Orangemen Demonstration Against Irish Church Disestablishment—Chinese Government Allowed Three Days to Apologize for the Insult to the French Minister—Steamship United Kingdom Supposed to be Lost—The Alabama Question in the English House of Lords.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 4.—Lord Broughton died yesterday, aged eighty-three years.

DUBLIN, June 4.—A large meeting of Orangemen was held in this city last evening to protest against the disestablishment of the Irish Church. It is estimated that over four thousand persons were present. Appropriate speeches were made and resolutions adopted.

LONDON, June 4.—The London newspapers are still discussing the relations existing between England and the United States. The Standard says the conduct of America in the matter of the late treaty, in the lapse of time may be forgotten, but at present it is hardly fair to be linked to feelings of just indignation and resentment.

The Post says new attempts for the settlement of the Alabama claims must come from America, and hopes that due precaution will be taken to secure England against accepting a treaty almost with humility, which will be rejected at last with contumely.

In the House of Lords this evening Sir Alfred De Redcliffe moved for a copy of the Alabama treaty. He said the Government had shown the greatest conciliation in its desire to maintain peace, and trusted that when negotiations were resumed between the two countries that a calmer spirit than that which succeeded Mr. Sumner's speech would show its influence, and that Americans would feel that there were demands that England could not entertain. He hoped that such negotiations would place their relations upon a satisfactory footing and all would rejoice when that end could be attained by the able man whom all admire.

Lord Clarendon regretted the unavoidable delay in furnishing the papers called for. He traced the history of the negotiation and said that the House of Commons was not entitled to assume that the majority of the Senate and people of the United States supported Mr. Sumner's demands. He believed that without intervention the sympathetic feelings and good sense of America would ultimately prevail. The friendly feelings of the United States were reciprocated. He would shrink from no sacrifice to maintain peace, but the national honor must be maintained. He was not aware of the nature of Mr. Motley's instructions, but he hoped what had occurred would promote and not hinder negotiations, as the terms that England was willing to concede, or must refuse, were well known.

FRANCE.

PARIS, June 4.—Ernest Burdet, who has recently gone to Mexico to look after French interests, will succeed M. Farin in the same capacity. He will hold no intercourse with the Mexican Government.

It is semi-officially stated that the French Government is opposed to the neutralization of the Suez canal.

The French Trans-Atlantic cable is completed.

The personal property of Sir Edward Cunard, in this country, has been sworn at £300,000.

CHINA.

LONDON, June 4.—Advices from Hong Kong are to the 11th of May. The French and other Envoys had notified the Chinese government that three days would be allowed for an apology for the insult to Count de Rocheichouart.

SPAIN.

MADRID, June 4.—Gen. De Roda is to sail instantly for Cuba, in reply to the demand of Gen. Dulce for immediate relief from the Captain Generalcy of that Island.

GREECE.

ATHENS, June 1.—The Greek elections have ended and show a large majority in the Chambers in favor of Bulgaris' Ministry.

MARINE NEWS.

LIVERPOOL, June 4.—The steamship United Kingdom, which left New York last April for this port, has not yet arrived. Considerable anxiety is felt concerning her safety.

[Note—The New York agents have by no means given up hopes of her safety.]

Nova Scotia Annexation Question.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HALIFAX, June 4.—In the House of Assembly last night Mr. Murray asked the appointment of another day for the consideration of the annexation resolution. The Attorney General desired a postponement till the next session. He intended to propose further constitutional measures to get out of confederation, and until they were tried it would be wrong to take revolutionary steps. He did not expect the Government or Parliament of England to grant repeal, but he expected the higher courts in the realm to release Nova Scotia from the confederation, by declaring the union act illegal. After further discussion it was arranged by the speaker taking Mr. Mruray's resolution as a notice that it would be moved on Monday.

Cherokee Lands Trouble in Kansas.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 4.—The stories of the hanging of railroad men on the Cherokee Lands, Kansas, are not confirmed and are probably false. The settlers, however, have lately received large supplies of powder, and are said to be preparing to resist any force which may attempt to build the railroad or protect its workmen. Several settlers have been driven out of the country by the League, on account of their lukewarmness, and others have been warned to leave within forty-eight hours, under penalty of hanging.

—H. C. Fiske, Superintendent of the Erie Railroad, Dr. Porter and several of their friends, while bathing at the Water Cure establishment at Buffalo, on Thursday, were robbed. Dr. Porter lost a certificate of the deposit of $20,000 on the Warren Bank, Pa., and the others lost sundry valuables. An attendant was arrested.

—In the United States Court at Cincinnati the case of the Government against five cases of imported reprints of American copyright books, part of seventy-eight cases seized for non-payment of government duties, Judge Leavitt decided that these books reverted to the copyright owner upon payment of government tax by him.

—John Newman, Mary Newman and John Henderson were arrested at the Grand Trunk Railway depot, Buffalo, on Friday, while en route to Toronto, charged with robbing the American Express Company, at Philadelphia. From letters found on them it was discovered that the same parties had committed a larceny at Fort Wayne, Indiana. The woman had $1,100 in her possession.

—A dispatch from Charleston, S. C., says the Ansdell, Captain Doplin, arrived there on the 31st ultimo, with C. W. A. Delafield and a Brazilian family of five, named Tructoso, saved from the Mississippi. This steamer struck on the reefs near Martinique and broke into pieces. Her passengers and crew were saved by the steamers Guyenne and Acheron, which are still endeavoring to save some of the cargo with the other passengers on board.

—A swindling firm in New York, styled "S. W. Waters & Co., Lottery Agents," wrote some days ago to ex-Governor Thomas E. Bramlette, of Kentucky, informing him that he had won a watch worth two hundred and fifty dollars, and that by sending $13.50 to the firm it would be expressed immediately. Bramlette had purchased no ticket, but suspecting some rascality, ordered Waters & Co. to express the watch C. O. D. The prize was sent, and, as was suspected, it was a miserable brass watch. Bramlette having paid the charges, went before a Justice and attached the money and the watch in the hands of the Express company.

It is thought here that the example of Peru in recognizing the belligerency of Cuban insurgents will be followed by Chili and the other Spanish American republics.

The Spanish Minister's reports from Cuba do not confirm the reports which, it is said, come through insurgent channels. The former say that but very few filibusters have thus far landed, and but a small quantity of arms, not enough to make a formidable force.

Ex-Secretary Stanton's health continues poor. He has lost over forty pounds this winter and will probably go North in July and remain during warm weather.

The weak nominations made by the Democratic party, for city officers, seems to have taken all their enthusiasm out of the canvass, and the Republicans will probably carry the city by 1500 majority.

Hon. S. S. Marshall returned here from Phiadelphia last evening, although originally opposed to the resolution authorizing the Committee of Ways and Means to travel over the country during the recess. Judge Marshall expresses the opinion now that the investigation of this committee will result beneficially to public interest.

Postmaster General Cresswell having instituted an inquiry as to the reasons why E. B. Armstead, the late defaulting financial agent of the department, had not been prosecuted by his (Cresswell's) predecessor, a note was found on file from the Solicitor of the Treasury, saying "The public interests require that no further proceedings be had against Mr. Armstead."

The President is not very well pleased that Mr. Motley has allowed Englishmen to draw speeches out of him in advance of his official presentation, as it indicates a disposition to follow in Reverdy's tracks, which were universally condemned, and by Mr. Motley himself, who was aware of the fact that no English Minister ever allowed himself to be drawn into speech-making while en route to a foreign capital.

Postmaster General Cresswell has made the following appointments: Moses Collins, Route Agent between Pittsburgh and Uniontown, vice Patrick Brady, removed; J. R. Elder and W. F. Cunningham, Postal Clerks between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh; John Knasborn, promoted from clerk to head clerk; John C. Paul, promoted from assistant clerk to clerk; and P. H. Schryerer as assistant clerk, vice Paul, promoted, on the line between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

THE Society of Friends (Hicksite branch,) have published extracts from the minutes of the Philadelphia Yearly Meeting, held last month. These minutes contain information in reference to the operations of the Friends among the Indians. An Indian committee of twenty-four male and twenty female Friends has been appointed, who are authorized to draw upon the Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting for funds, if occasion should arise, for the expenditure of money. In addition to this, eight nominations of Friends for superintendents and agents suggested to the President had been transmitted to the Senate, six of whom were confirmed, and two rejected in consequence of a desire to retain old agents in their positions. The agent for the Omaha has since been removed, and one of the rejected Friends appointed in his place.

THE new law of Ohio prohibiting marriages between first cousins and preventing the marriage of girls under sixteen years of age, as printed, provides that a young lady cannot be married without the consent of her parents unless she is over twenty-one years of age. Under the old law girls over fourteen years of age were allowed to marry with the consent of their parents, and those over eighteen to marry without consent. The new provision is a bitter pill to connubially inclined boys and girls in whose cases parental authority is withheld.

A SOLICITOUS parent in Buffalo recently sent his daughter to a noted oculist to see if she could be cured of winking to certain acquaintances she is wont to meet on the street.

LETTER FROM ST. LOUIS.

Parade of Ancient York (Colored) Masons—Antiquity of the Order—Heavy Incomes—Decoration Day.

[From our Special Correspondent.]

ST. LOUIS, May 31, 1869.

On last Thursday morning we had a grand parade of colored Free Masons, which attracted a good deal of attention. This organization, which is called the Ancient York Masons, has an origin independent of the other Masonic Societies in this country, and boasts of even a stronger title to legitimacy. It is asserted that the original charter to the first Grand Lodge in this country was in the possession of General Warren, who fell at Bunker Hill, and that after his death it was never found. All subordinate lodges at that time became extinct, no meetings being held for six years, and the Grand Lodge, through this unfortunate loss of the charter, ceased to exact.

The organization was re-established by opening lodges called Free and Accepted Masons. The colored members of the Order, however, in Boston, wrote and obtained a charter from York, in England, in 1784, from which the entire organization has sprung. It now numbers, besides the National Grand Lodge, seventeen State Grand Lodges and about four hundred subordinate Lodges.

Grand Master, Moses Dickson, of the Grand Lodge in this State, informs me that they claim, and the claim is admitted by English Masons, that their Order, the Ancient York Masons, is the only legitimately organized body of the fraternity in this country, and that distinguished members of the Order from England when in this country have visited at these Lodges, paying them a respect they refused to other organizations.

Thursday's demonstration was for the purpose of laying the corner stone of a building for church and school purposes in Carondelet, whither, after a short parade through our principal streets, they, with their invited guests, were transported by a special train on the Iron Mountain Railroad.

The very elite of the colored people belong to the Order, and, saving in color, their appearance was fully equal to that of the same number of white men on any similar occasion.

Our papers are publishing a list of incomes. The heaviest is that of John J. Roe, pork packer, $211,000; next comes Francis Whitaker, with the same line of business, with $130,000. Three Whitakers, Francis, John and James, partners, have an aggregate income of $213,000, a little more than Roe. Three Ashbrooks, also in the pork business, report each $40,462. The third largest income in the list is Jas. H. Lucas, called for short "old man Lucas." His will be a gorgeous funeral, and he has lots of friends who anticipate it with very commendable resignation. He isn't dead yet. Robert Campbell, owner of the Southern Hotel, reports $69,000, and Alex. Kelsey, owner of the Paschal House, a clean $50,000. The latter is the smaller house, but has been better managed—for its owner. You know these returns give no idea of the wealth of a community, or of individuals reported, as income derived from stocks, bonds, interest deposits and many other sources are omitted. Some men who by repute are tolerably well off, do not appear at all.

Yesterday our soldiers' graves were decorated. This promises to become an institution and a National holiday. Flowers smell sweeter than gunpowder, and we can easily spare a little of our Fourth of July patriotism for such an occasion and beautiful ceremonial. This annual observance is better than bronze or granite monuments, and may be more lasting. Some old-fashioned people would have preferred to wait over the Sabbath this year, but the patriotic masses could not spare a week day, and these scruples were squelched with a sneer. It was amusing to read and hear the remarks of some, not conspicuously pious souls, on this subject. They felt they were performing an eminently religious service, in devoting Sunday to perpetuate the sacred memory of our heroes, and doubtless went home feeling that they had paid their Maker an unusual compliment. The old-fashioned individuals ought to remember that the city of St. Louis had decided the Sabbath out of date, and that if they have scruples about it, they had better go to Chicago or some other place place where Sunday comes once a week. However, time makes things even, and before this anniversary again occurs on Sunday we may hope that the difficulties which prevent its general observance may be somehow got over.

HITTY MAGINN.

INJUSTICE.—A curious illustration of English jurisprudence has been furnished this week. A man not long since obtained a divorce from his wife for the only cause for which the Bible says divorces should be granted. This week the two witnesses on whose testimony the verdict in the Divorce Court was based, have been convicted of perjury in regard to that particular evidence, and sent into penal servitude. Yet the woman is still divorced and cast upon the world penniless. Her former husband does not want her back again, for other reasons, although her innocence is established, and the power of all the courts in the kingdom cannot compel him to take her back, and besides all this, he has been legally married again to another woman. There ought to be some remedy for this unfortunate woman, but there really is none whatever, for she is prohibited from remarrying, under the judgment of the Divorce Court, and so must pass through the world as neither maid, wife nor widow.—Cor. Chicago Journal.

—At New York, last evening, Joseph Hartnell and Michael Kearney accused Thomas Costello, a barkeeper, of passing counterfeit money on them. A fight ensued, when the two former fled, pursued by Costello and his friends, who assaulted the two. In self defence they fired at Costello, wounding him, and one of the shots mortally wounded Richard Gerdes, sitting in his own doorway with his family. Hartnell and Kearney gave themselves up to the police.

THE LEITH PILOT'S SONG.

I.

O where is the ship that sailed over the sea
Last Michaelmas tide was a year?
At Michaelmas tide, and she promised to be
By midsummer back again here.
Stout and strong was her build, stout and strong was her oak,
Stout and strong were her mariners bold:
Loud and long were our cheers, as the good ship broke
Through the bar where the big breakers rolled,
"God speed thee, my son," prayed the gray grandame,
As she wiped the last tear from her eye.
"He must go," sighed the bride, yet she smiled all the same,
As near to a smile as a sigh.

Now a heave, yo ho! heave the lead, yo ho!
And a heave, yo ho! for the lead.

II.

O, where is the ship that sailed over the sea
Last Michaelmas tide was a year?
At Michaelmas tide, and she promised to be
By midsummer back again here.
"God save thee, my son," moans the gray grandame,
With ever a tear in her eye;
"He must come," cries the bride, yet she weeps all the same,
As the weariful days go by.
Alas, for the ship that lies dead in the sea!
Alas, for the mariners' hearts that are cold!
Alas, for two hearts breaking silently,
Bonny bride and gray grandame old!

Now a heave, yo ho! heave the lead, yo ho
And a heave, yo ho! for the lead.

EPHEMERIS.

—There were 128 deaths in Baltimore last week.

—A Board of officers has been appointed to examine into the physical condition of the West Point cadets.

—Reverdy Johnson was expected to arrive in Baltimore yesterday, where the City Council proposes to publicly welcome him.

—An unknown man was found hanging, dead, to a tree near Dayton, Ohio, Wednesday morning. It was evidently a deliberate suicide.

—A horse ran away in Central Park, New York City, on Tuesday and knocked down and seriously injured three young ladies.

—On Tuesday Gilbert Lewis, a young married man, hung himself in his barn in Warren county, Ohio. He had for a short time recently been insane.

—On Monday evening Baltimore was visited by a severe storm of rain and hail. Five new houses, nearly completed, were thoroughly demolished and several other houses were unroofed.

—Last Saturday a German deliberately walked into the water and drowned himself, near Baltimore. He had been in this country but about six weeks and had been unable to procure work.

—On Monday night, Nancy King, a girl of fourteen years of age, from Rockland county, N. Y., was suffocated in her bed at Syracuse, by the gas which she had not turned off properly.

—Last Friday evening the town of Shipman, Illinois, was almost completely destroyed by a tornado. The loss of property is estimated at $500,000, and several persons were badly injured.

—The Atalanta boat club of New York, organized in 1847, and said to be the oldest club in the country, is to race with the Midshipmen crew at Annapolis. An exciting and excellent race is anticipated.

—At Troy, N. Y., Noah Bigelow has been found guilty of the murder of Cynthia Segar, in Rensaeller county, N. Y., and sentenced to be hung on the 15th of next July. He has made a full confession.

—James Robins has been arrested in New York, charged with robbing the dead body of Frank Walker, killed at the Angola Railroad disaster eighteen months since, of a watch. The detective traced the watch through six holders to the culprit.

—Last Saturday night a party of roughs from the neighborhood indulged in a bloody fight in Elkton, Maryland, during which two men were frightfully stabbed, one fatally and the other very seriously. Two men charged with having done the cutting are now in gaol.

—Col. Stanton, State Auditor of Virginia, has ordered the three State oyster gunboats (iron steam propellors) to remain on the oyster banks all summer, in order to prevent the New York, New Jersey and Maryland oystermen from making a summer raid for oysters to plant.

—Josiah Goldthwaite, an estimable and wealthy citizen of Northbridge, Mass, was found hung in his barn on Tuesday morning. He had given no indication of mental disquiet, and many suspect he was made way with by some person to cover up some crime not yet discovered.

—On Tuesday night in Portland, Me., the wife of a lawyer named Irving W. Parker, attacked a milliner named Mrs. E. Baker, firing three pistol shots at her; two of them took effect, and at last accounts Mrs. Baker was lying insensible, and, it is supposed, mortally wounded. Mrs. Parker is now in custody.

—On Tuesday night, Elliott's Mills at Worcester, Massachusetts, containing a large amount of stock and machinery, were destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at one hundred thousand dollars, on which there was about twenty-seven thousand dollars insurance. Two hundred operators are thus thrown out of employment.

—Jeremiah Strickland was shot and mortally wounded on Tuesday afternoon, by his brother-in-law, Isaac B. Waters, in Williamsburg, New York. Strickland had been maltreating his wife in Waters' house, he interfered and Strickland assaulted and severely beat him, whereupon Mrs. Strickland handed him a pistol, from which he fired the fatal shot.

—The body of an unknown white man, of apparently about thirty years of age, was found floating in the river near Cincinnati, Wednesday afternoon. His clothing was much tattered and discolored, but the buttons of a staff officer were still upon the coat and a leather strap was around the arm. It is thought he may be one of the victims of the Magnolia explosion.

—Last week two daughters of Neal Moore, in Lawrence county, Kentucky, were on a hill-side burning brush, when the elder girl noticed that a log, some distance above, was rolling toward them. She called to her little sister to escape, but made no effort to get out of the way herself. The log rolled on with resistless force, and catching her, it crushed her and broke her neck.

—On Saturday last some boys, with guns, discovered a little fellow named John Fremback, nine years old, fishing in the Maumee river, near Perrysville, Ohio, and thought to amuse themselves by shooting at him. After missing him once or twice, they succeeded in planting three buckshot in his face, when they took to their heels. The victim of their sport will lose an eye.

—At a meeting of the Maryland graduates of Princeton College, held Tuesday night at the Church of the Rev. Dr. Backus, in Baltimore, for the purpose of organizing a society of the alumni, Gen. B. C. Howard presided, and stated that he took his degree at Princeton sixty-one years ago. A committee of five was appointed to draft a constitution, &c. Dr. McCosh, President of the College was then introduced and proceeded to address the meeting.

—A man residing in Newton, Maryland, hired, recently, a colored girl as a servant, and furnished her with clothes and money in advance, with which she took her immediate departure. Last Sunday the man happened upon the girl in one of the public streets of Newton, and at once proceeded to take possession of, and carry off with him, all his property, which thus left the poor thief completely nude in the street.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The General Conference of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ, assembled in its quadrennial session, in Lebanon, Pennsylvania, Thursday May 20th. All the Bishops, five in number, and most of the delegates, are present. The Conference was still in session at last accounts. This body of Christians has many features of the Methodists, both as regards polity and doctrines. Immediately after suitable devotions, the Bishop's Address was read. In view of the little publicity of the proceedings of this body, by telegraph and correspondence, though its membership outnumbers some other bodies we could name, which have been accorded considerable space by the secular press, we briefly note some points of general interest. In the address of the Bishop we learn the membership of the Church, at the last session of the General Conference in 1865, was 89,311. Now it is 108,122, showing a net increase of 18,311. If the probationers were counted, the increase would net twenty-five thousand. The increase of churches has been 152; Sunday Schools, 362; scholars, 37,831; teachers, 6,129. During the past four years over one hundred thousand dollars have been collected for Sabbath School purposes. During the same length of time $153,237.06 have been expended for mission purposes. Six colleges and four seminaries are under the supervision of the Church. But few of the important questions before the body have been decided. An effort is being made to make the rules on secret societies less binding, to permit members to belong to secret temperance societies, but it is hardly likely this will be done. The rules now exclude persons from Church fellowship who join secret societies. Considerable agitation is felt in regard to lay delegation, but indications are apparent that the matter will be deferred to see what the Methodists will do. Whether this is so or not, it is not likely the question will be decided at this time.

Nearly four hundred persons have been received into the Methodist Episcopal church at Greenfield, Ohio, Rev. S. D. Clayton, pastor, during a recent revival meeting.

A correspondent of the Advance represents that one hundred tobacco spittoons were provided for the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of America for this year's session. One or two of the Methodist Conferences in the East have taken action refusing to receive any young man into membership that uses the "vile weed." Thus we go.

The anniversary of the National Association of Christians, opposed to secret societies, will be held in Chicago, June 8th. This is the Society organized in Pittsburgh about one year ago.

The Independent represents that the Reformed Presbyterian Synod. at its late meeting in Newburg, New York, opposition was made to a proposal to raise a fund for superannuated ministers, as being an immoral insurance scheme. It was argued that the Church needed all its money to press forward missionary work, and that such passages as "take no thought for your life," etc., precluded such untrustful schemes.

Bishop Rosecrans offers to have perpetual mass said till the end of the world for all persons who shall contribute twenty-five dollars for St. Joseph Cathedral, Columbus, Ohio.

The new Fifth Avenue Collegiate Reformed (Dutch Church,) New York, now in course of erection, will cost over three hundred thousand dollars, and it is expected the building will be completed in two years. The centennial anniversary of the College North Church was celebrated some days since.

According to the Independent the Baptists of Philadelphia have nearly doubled their membership since 1850. They now have fourteen thousand members and forty churches.

The Free Baptists are agitating the question of establishing a theological school of the first class.

The Independent says the attendance of children at St. Albans Episcopal, (New York) Sabbath School, on a pleasant Lord's day was just twenty.

Rev. Henry B. Ensworth, formerly pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church, of this city, has been received into the Philadelphia Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church.

Rev. J. Payne, Protestant Episcopal Missionary Bishop of Africa, has resigned his bishopric and will return to the United States at an early day. The following is a summary of his thirty-three years' work in Africa: Total confirmations, 643; total ordinations, 26, of which 16 were Liberian. His labor of thirty-three years demonstrates that foreign missionaries may live and labor on the west coast of Africa as well as the hundreds engaged in commercial or military duty.

The new Methodist Episcopal Church, in one of the new wards, Lawrenceville, of this city. under the pastorate of Rev. James A. Miller, will be dedicated Sunday, June 13, by Bishop Simpson, who will preach at the morning service. A great treat is in store for those who attend. It is possible other distinguished ministers will assist the pastor on that day.

The General Synod of the Reformed (Dutch) Church convened in Philadelphia on Wednesday last. The following officers were chosen: President, Rev. Charles H. Stitt; Adressor, Rev. Goyn Talmage; Clerks, Revs. D. S. Sutphen and S. G. Rogers. The Synodical sermon was preached in the evening by the Rev. E. S. Porter, D. D., President of the last Synod. The statistics show the following: Four hundred and forty-eight churches, four hundred and seventy-four ministers, and thirty-seven thousand and ninety families. During the past year there have been received into the Church three thousand eight hundred and four persons on confession of faith and two thousand two hundred and ninety-four on certificates. The total communicants in the Church number forty-nine thousand five hundred and eight. There are forty-seven thousand three hundred and eighty-eight scholars connected with the Sunday Schools. The contributions during the past year, for religious and benevolent objects, amounted to $204,492,93.

Some person has taken the pains to compute the average yearly increase of denominations, in comparison with the increase of population, which is a fraction under thirty-six per cent. The average yearly increase of the Methodist Church is near fifty-seven per cent.; that of the Baptist near thirty-nine per cent.; Presbyterians, thirty-one per cent.; and Episcopalians near fifty two per cent. The figures show that the churches have grown during the century faster than the population.

The Mormons think the Pacific Railroad will increase their numbers and foster their institutions, whilst others believe that the stream of emigration carried into Utah by the road will drown Mormonism out of existence,

According to the Congregational Quarterly, five hundred and thirty-eight churches of that denomination are without stated pastors. It reports also, eight hundred and fifty ministers not in the pastoral work. Of these, one hundred and one are engaged as missionaries and teachers.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Rochester Chronicle contradicts, on the authority of a gentleman of French descent and an intimate friend of Hon. E. B. Washburne, the common report that Mr. Washburne is ignorant of the French language. He says that "Mr. Washburne is well acquainted with the French language, being able to speak it well and write it elegantly. It has been his custom for years in Washington to have a French teacher come to his room while he was making his toilet and converse with him in that language. For ten years he has felt a special interest in French history and politics. He has studied them thoroughly, and become as familiar with them as with our own." He does not add, what we presume is true, that Mr. Washburne speaks the French language as fluently and as accurately as he does his own. It is time this slander on our Minister to France was stopped.

THE New York Times says we have the report, up till the close of May, of the Castle Garden Labor Exchange, which is under the control of the Commissioners of Emigration. The orders received from employers for laborers are always more numerous than are the applicants for employment, there being an average of 164 orders per day, while the average daily number of applicants is 146. Almost every applicant is immediately engaged, and in many cases they have a choice of labor or location. The great majority of emigrants are only fitted for agricultural labor, and this is always easily obtained for them in any part of the country. This Labor Exchange has been of incalculable value to emigrants, and we are glad to hear the reports of its proceedings from time to time.

IN Watertown, Wisconsin, there is a boy, thirteen years of age, who out-does Tom Thumb—even in Tom's forte—littleness. He is twenty-nine and a half inches in height and weighs only eighteen pounds. When seven months old he was as large as children at that age ordinarily are, but from that time he ceased to grow, and has gained only two pounds in weight in twelve years. He has one club foot and no thumbs, but uses his forefingers as thumbs.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, June 4, 1869.

The oil market is steady and moderately active, and compared with yesterday, prices, if anything, are a shade higher. As has been the case all week, most of the sales of Refined are being made by eastern operators to Pittsburghers, and as we remarked yesterday, it is being bought by parties who are short, and who are anxious to cover. There is considerable feeling manifested in regard to the production, and the forth coming report of the Titusville Herald is being looked for with considerable interest. There are quite a nuber of bets pending on the statement of the production for last month, and besides the whole trade are deeply interested on this point.

CRUDE.

The Crude market continues steady with a moderate inquiry both for present and future delivery, and compared with yesterday, prices have still further advanced. Sales of 1,500 bbls buyer, all year, at 15½; 1,000 each July and August at 14; 1,000 July, at 13½; 1,000 same month, at 14; 1,000 each July and August seller, at 14¼, and 1,000 July (40 to 45) at 14¼. It was reported that there had been sales of spot oil at 13¼@13½.

REFINED.

Steady, but without important change. Sale of two 500 bbl lots for August at 31¾; 500 each July to September, at 32; and a "call" of 1,000 each July to October, at 30 and $1 per bbl, considered equivalent to 32½. June quoted at 30.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, June 4, 1869.

The metal market, compared with last week, has undergone but little change, with the exception that prices are weak with a drooping tendency. Within the last four or five months leading forge irons have declined about $1,50 per ton, and it is possible that there may be a still further decline. Under the influence of continued light receipts, however, there is no great accumulation of stock, and, as a consequence, there is not the same disposition to make concessions that there might be otherwise. As usual, at this season of the year, consumers as a general thing are buying sparingly, not being disposed to carry any more stock than possible, particularly as there is a possibility of lower prices.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily with six feet six inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks last evening. Weather cloudy and warm, with occasional showers.

We have no arrivals to report aside from the packets.

The Armadillo departed for St. Louis, drawing nearly all the water, and it was feared that she might have trouble getting over Glass House. Pilots—Alf, Moore and Barney Given.

The Grey Eagle, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

The Kenton departed for Portsmouth with a fair trip.

The Bellevernon, Capt. J. J. Darragh, is announced for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi to-day, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. The Belle is among the fleetest sternwheelers on the western wrters.

—The Lawrence left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Wednesday with 200 tons and 50 tons metal engaged at Boone Furnace. Pilots—Mulrine and Horn.

—The Leonidas after receiving 200 tons at Cincinnati left there, on Wednesday, for New Orleans.

—On Wednesday morning a suit was brought before the United States District Court, at Cincinnati in which Chas. M. Hayes, of Tennessee, is plaintiff, and the United States Mail Line Company are defendants. The suit is for damages sustained by the collision of the steamers United States and America. He lays his claim for personal injuries at $25,000, and loss of personal property at $5,000.

—The United States snagboat, S. Thayer, Capt. Huston, is at work a few miles below Fort Smith.

—The great log jam in the Chippewa river is nearly cut through, leaving a wide enough passage for lumber fleets to get out.

—The Ida Rees No. 2, arrived at Fort Benton on the morning of the 30th.

—The Messenger went as far up as Minneapolis, and there reloaded for return trip. Certain circumstances called Capt. Dean out in the following certificate:

ST. PAUL, May 27, 1869.—This is to certify that I have been a steamboatman thirty years of my life, piloting and in command of steamers, and have navigated the rivers between St. Paul and Pittsburgh much of the time. Having been requested by Captain Edward Murphy to take my boat, steamer Messenger, up to Minneapolis, on the 28th inst., after freight, I went up, not knowing the river, running in the channel as directed by Captain Murphy. I find just such a river between St. Paul and Minneapolis as between Wheeling and Pittsburgh, and am satisfied that I can go up whenever I can get to St. Paul, and will do so when business is given my boat, and assure all shippers that most steamboatmen on the Ohio will do the same, at least after they make the trial, as I have done, in a moderate stage of water. We brought out tunnage equal to 1,200 bbls flour and met no difficulty. I am delighted with the prospects of a continues business between Pittsburgh and Minneapolis, and feel that steamers will run night or day to Minneapolis as soon as business is given them, and will sign through bills of lading from all points on the river from Pittsburgh to Minneapolis.

JESSE DEAN.
Capt. of Steamer Messenger.

—Tuesday afternoon John B. Ford sold his remaining interest, one-half of the New Albany glass works, to John S. McDonald and Mrs. Mary Lapsley, for $50,000.

—The St. Louis Dispatch of Wednesday says: The Cornelia yesterday was broken loose from her moorings by the flood in the river, and struck against the Great Republic. The Great Republic was broken loose, but was saved by her strong lines from floating down the stream. She struck against the Lizzie Gill, and the Lizzie Gill against the Little Giant. No damage of consequence was done.

—We learn that the owners of the steamer Ollie Sullivan, sunk by a collision with the Quickstep, have sued Capt. Dexter, of the Quickstep, for $3,700, the alleged value of the Sullivan.

—The Sully passed Kansas City on the morning of the 31st on her way to Benton. She took on considerable freight at that point.

River and Weather.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, June 4—The river is stationary, with eight feet two inches in the canal. The weather is cloudy and warm.

THE mortality lists of Pittsburgh present evidence that no other city in the United States enjoys greater immunity from sickness which leads to death. We are a hard working people, and good public health is our greatest reward.

THE health of Ex-Secretary STANTON remains poor, and his friends have no hope that he will ever sufficiently recover to take active part in the affairs of the country. He is an example of men worn down and death-stricken by the recent war, although never in front of the enemies' guns.

WE learn that the report, through the Associated Press, of the removal of Collector SULLIVAN (not NEVIN, as stated yesterday,) in the XXIII district, and of the appointment of Mr. R. L. BROWN to that office, is not wholly correct. This change of office has been under consideration at Washington, but is for the present delayed.

THE curse of the American people is a desire to be heard in speech-making. The English appreciate our national weakness in that direction, and pounce upon our representatives to their capital so soon as they arrive and seduce them into oratory. Mr. MOTLEY has been entrapped in this manner before the American mud was fairly shaken from his boots. Let him look to the record of his highly wined and dined predecessor, and take warning from his downfall.

MRS. DR. WALKER, the lady who has the moral courage, or impudence if you like, to throw off the peculiar garments of her own sex and go in for public office at the hands of the Administration, is made occupy a very unpleasant position by many journalists of the country. She is no better than an hundred thousand others who have been besieging the hero President for places of honor and trust, and, although a woman, is no worse. Give her a fair show. If woman's place is at the crib, let her take her choice between the domestic and the public article.

THERE is a movement on foot, among the wiser Republicans of Tennessee, to throw overboard both of the present candidates for Governor, and to unite upon a new man, perhaps HORACE MAYNARD. It would be very gratifying to chronicle the success of this proposition, both in its present adoption and in the popular approval which would be sure to follow. A candidate like MAYNARD, standing upon the broad ground of universal suffrage and amnesty, and a ground which neither of the present rivals can consistently occupy—would sweep Tennessee like one of its own summer tornadoes.

THE Altoona Tribune is at a loss to understand why the Pittsburgh Commercial snarls so perpetually against the management of our leading railways. The Tribune can scarcely have observed the course of our neighbor closely, or it would be surprised at none of the Commercial's vagaries—unless it should some day chance to tell the truth. That would indeed surprise everybody here,—even that small party of our eminent citizens who apparently feel a morbid pride in the chronic stupidity, the habitual ignorance, and the inbred mendacity always revealed in the columns of that splendid specimen of misdirected enterprise.

THE Johnstown Democrat emulates the habitual accuracy of its friends of the Commercial in the annexed notice of the action of our late Conventions. Observe how lovely everything is, and how exactly correct, as put by this well informed Johnstown politician:

The course of the Commercial in denouncing the corruption at Harrisburg last winter was strongly indorsed by the selection of a Legislative ticket composed of five new men and only two of the old members—Messrs. Humphreys and Millar. The administration of Governor Geary was indorsed, and the delegates to the State Convention were instructed to vote for him. Hon. H. W. Williams was also indorsed for Supreme Judge. The nomination of Geary and Williams by the Philadelphia Convention may now be regarded as a fixed fact.

WE WOULD call attention to a card in another column, signed by a number of the leading clergymen of the city, and recommending to the general public the cause for which the Rev. J. C. KEENEY, agent of the Orphans' Home at Lauderdale, Mississippi, is now traveling. This noble, charitable institution now maintains more than two hundred orphans, and and has been forced to turn away more than one thousand others, who sought admittance. A farm of two hundred and seventy-five acres is attached to the institution, and it is thought that if it can receive sufficient aid from the North to sustain it for a year or two, it will become self-supporting; but at present, owing to the failure of the crops in Mississippi, caused by drought and freshet, they are greatly in need of aid.

RAILWAY NEWS.

The VANDERBILT ticket was beaten in the election of the officers for the new consolidated Lake Shore line from Erie via Toledo to Chicago.

The Union Central road, uniting the Pennsylvania and Lehigh Valley roads, and giving direct transportation to New York for the coal of Schuylkill county, is to be built forthwith.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has commenced suit to forclose the first mortgage on the road from Cincinnati to Zanesville. This is a legal formality which will supply the needful sanction to existing contracts for the control of that line. With the completion of the sixteen miles of branch between Dresden and Zanesville, the Pennsylvania Company will have a continuous through road, entirely under their own control, from the seaboard to Cincinnati.

Cleveland and Pittsburgh stock went up ten per cent. in one day lately, on the strength of a rumor that a scrip dividend of thirty per cent. would shortly be declared. But the accuracy of the rumor is doubted.

The charges for passengers and freight have been reduced on the Central Pacific road and further reductions are foreshadowed. It is intimated that the fare from Omaha to San Francisco will soon be put down to $100 currency for first class and $40 for emigrants. An exchange says:

"The distance from Philadelphia to Chicago, by the Fort Wayne route, is 824 miles; from New York to Chicago, by way of the Allentown branch of the Pennsylvania Central, striking the main line at Harrisburg, is 911 miles; from New York to Chicago, by way of the Erie Railroad, Lake Shore and the Michigan Southern, is 998 miles; and again, by way of the Hudson River, New York Central, Canada road and Michigan Central, 956 miles."

A PRACTICAL INCONSISTENCY.

W. C. BRYANT and other leading authors have been taking an active part for years in the so-called Free Trade movement, which has retained its youth and freshness through repeated drafts from the golden fountain reputed to be located in an isle beyond the seas. These eminent literary gentlemen are willing that all products resulting from manual labor performed abroad shall be allowed to enter untaxed into competition with American work, burdened as it is with taxation. That Americans can successfully compete against such odds is an idea worthy of a poet's brain, for, of course, they would fancy that the mighty elixir of Liberty must give Columbia's favorite sons ten fold strength to meet the rivalry.

But these literateurs are illogical, as indeed it becomes poets and romancists to be. The very gentlemen who would so gladly show the world that their fellow Americans can stand against the united industries of all the effete aristocracies and rotten monarchies of the old world, are among the leaders of that clique, which is moving heaven and earth to have that especial branch of protection, known as the international copyright law, established. Manufacturers of staple fabrics, according to them, can live and flourish under a free trade policy; but manufacturers of light and etherial fancies, or of solid literature, must be protected against the influx of cheap foreign productions. When we see these gentlemen thus anxious to protect themselves and their own especial branch of industry, we can not help being uncharitable enough to draw therefrom the conclusion that if they were iron-masters, instead of masters of Pegasus, they would as strongly advocate a stringent tariff law, as they do now an international copyright law.

THE ALABAMA QUESTION IN POLITICS.

It is proposed, in some quarters, to make a political issue, in behalf of the Republican party, upon a vigorous enforcement of the Alabama claims against England. Indeed, we hear intimations that a resolution to that effect is to be presented for incorporation in the Republican platform at Philadelphia.

The Republicans of Allegheny have already broken ground on this question, in the direction of a faithful maintenance "of the national rights and honor before all the peoples of the world." The Alabama case presents but a single specification, in the broad category of American self-assertion, and there should be long and wise deliberation, among our friends in Convention, upon the politic expediency, as well as the abstract propriety of making a specific demand instead of enunciating a principle as broad as international justice.

In point of fact, we could not but regard such a specification, at this juncture, when every indication points to a peaceful and early vindication of the broad principle, as interpreted in the light of American sentiment, as most impolitic and unstatesmanlike. The President has already taken up the true line of our National policy. He has no reason to doubt the sincere and firm support which the country already gives to him. He knows, as we do, that we do not desire a war, that we are not prepared for it, and that there exists, and will exist, absolutely no need for it. We all know that England is at this moment substantially ready for a concession which she would not have made twelve months since, nor even sixty days since, but in which her own sense of justice and right has, within a few weeks, so rapidly crystallized that there is, at this hour, scarcely even a faction, among her public men, who are not prepared to surrender every main point in the past controversy. The facts were never so universally admitted, or the law so plainly confessed in favor of the broadest American claims, as within the last fortnight.

We submit that this is not the hour or the situation proper for the volunteered and mischievous dragooning of our own partizanship. Events and logic march on with a power which nothing but some domestic blunder can arrest. And partizanship will involve the Administration in the most fatal of mistakes, when it shall drag it, as now suggested, into any false, or indefensible, or unnecessary position upon that delicate and critical question of international reclamation.

It is only needful that the President should be steadily assured of the hearty co-operation of his countrymen, and of their profound confidence in the wise discretion as well as the creditable vigor of his administration, in all affairs, whether foreign or domestic. If Republican Conventions go beyond that, the Republican party may live to regret an unnecessary and unwise step.

THE BURIAL OF THE DEAD.

One of the customs of civilized America is more unnecessarily barbarous than anything to be found in less enlightened countries. Look at what is called "Christian burial." That last necessity of humanity, as provided for here, could scarcely be more aptly regulated if the intention of its constructors had been to find the most harrowing process of playing on the feelings of the surviving friends of the deceased.

In no other civilized land does the interment take place so soon after the decease; so soon that innumerable instances are on record where the still fresh and life-like appearance of the corpse has led anxious friends to fear that life was not yet extinct, but these fears have almost invariably been overruled by the requirements and etiquette of custom.

In most countries, and those the most civilized, the coffin, on its way to the grave, is covered decently with an ample pall; here an ungracefully shaped sarcophagus, bedizzened perhaps with glittering metal, is placed in view, in a fantastically ornamented glass case, to be transported to the cemetery, presenting to the people in the streets an idea of a grotesque mixture of death and tinsel, in a tasteless and gaudy decoration of the relics of mortality.

This spectacle, glittering with plate glass and silver ornaments, is followed by a caravan of chariots filled with a promiscuous assembly, many members of which are attracted merely by a morbid "love of funerals," and most of whom are, at all times probably, and at that time certainly, uncongenial to the "chief mourners" who, by an arbitrary and essentially cruel dictate of fashion are compelled to ride for miles at a snail's pace to witness the spectacle of the interment of their dearest friends, and to have their sensitive ears harrassed by that most distressing of sounds, the dull heavy thud of the earth falling on the rough wooden chest in which has been enveloped the gorgeous casket so lately the chief attraction in the slow winding procession.

When this climax of unnecessary cruelty has been reached, when the nerves and feelings of the grief-stricken have been played upon until weak humanity can bear no more, the long hustling ride home still remains before them, which they are obliged to undergo with their minds full of the reminiscences of the trying scenes they have just witnessed.

And yet if all or any one of these were to be omitted, it would be generally stated and believed that proper respect had not been paid to the memory of the departed.

Suppose that instead of all this, after waiting until no shadow of a doubt remains as to Death's actual presence, a plain coffin, adapted in its shape and material to the use to which it must be put, should be procured and appropriate services as usual be performed at the house of mourning, then have the coffin placed on a truck adapted for the purpose, —and such as are in general use throughout Europe—covered over with a heavy pall, and accompanied by a few trusted male friends, the undertaker and the clergyman to perform the necessary services, and so taken to the grave while the mourners remain at home, spared all the harrowing incidents which at present are considered necessary! Undoubtedly many would object to this; perhaps they would say they wished to stay with the dead as long as possible, or to show the last marks of respect to dear friends. To these we say that only a comparatively modern custom sanctions the presence of women at funerals at all, and that in England—and in Philadelphia and other parts of our own country, retaining English habits—only the male friends of the family are invited to participate in the ceremonies, considered too distressing for females to be allowed to take part in.

We do not believe that because a custom is an old one it should be adhered to or adopted, but if it be sensible, its antiquity should not be an objection. Then, too, at present, many people are forced by fashion, and nothing else, to procure much more expensively decorated coffins and many more carriages than are at all necessary, or than they can afford. Preaching and writing have no effect in these cases, but if the custom were changed, if a pall rented from the undertaker hide the ornaments, or the lack of them, from the vulgar gaze, if two carriages were considered more respectful, and respectable, than fifty, most of the temptations inducive of post mortem display would be wanting, and our funerals would be less expensive, less offensive to good taste, and, to our mind, far more decent than they are at present.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE OLD TESTAMENT HISTORY. From the Creation to the Return of the Jews from Captivity. Edited by William Smith, L.L.D., Classical Examiner in the University of London. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

In this work we have not only embodied a history of the Old Testament, but critical notes of value to the student. Its arrangement is very much like the text books of modern histories, and gives Biblical history in a style at once captivating and instructive. Each epoch is traced and illustrated with suitable explanatory notes, by which the student is enabled to fix in his mind the grand eras of the world, as recorded in the Old Testament. The grouping together of the remarkable events, are expressed in language indicating the high scholarly abilities of the author. We could select passages of rare beauty, glowing with life, and yet terse and vigorous. For Sabbath School teachers the work cannot be equaled. Besides the valuable references and comments at the foot of the page, there is appended at the close of each chapter, notes and illustrations of signal ability and usefulness. The appendix at the close of the historical notes to the "Books of the Old Testament," "Chronological Tables of Old Testament History," "Tables and Weights of Measures," covering fifty pages, are scholarly and instructive. The same may be said of the Chronological Tables. With copious wood-cut illustrations, of a superior type, elegant maps, and full index, the student has every facility to study Scripture history with ease and comfort.

THE GATES WIDE OPEN, or Scenes in Another World. By George Wood, author of "Peter Schlemihl in America," etc. Published by Lee & Shepard, Boston. For sale by S. A. Clarke & Co., 119 Wood street, Pittsburgh.

The popularity of "The Gates Ajar" indicates that the reading public will welcome "The Gates Wide Open," a work of much the same character. The very titles of these works, awaken curiosity, and, indeed some curious things are narrated. Certainly the imagination of the author of the "Gates Wide Open," is tinged with a bold type, bordering upon the marvellous. So little is revealed of the "Scenes in Another World" that we are left to conjecture, and must depend upon our imaginary conceptions. We are not prepared, however, to anticipate some things portrayed in this racy volume, and yet it contains suggestive thoughts that may set the mind to work to solve the positions assumed. We are informed the work was published some years ago with the title of "Future Life; or Scenes in Another World," and since the publication of the attractive book of Miss Phelps, the author issued it under the name stated. Doubtless the book will have a wide sale.

BREAKERS AHEAD; or, Larry Dalton. By Harriet McKeever, author of Edith's Ministery," "Sunshine," etc. Published by J. P. Skelly & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by J. L. Read & Son, 102 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh.

This is a delightful story and contains lessons worthy of commendation. It sketches the career of a youth who had come from the country to live in the city, but yielding to the temptations and wickedness around him, he lost his fair character. Happily he is reclaimed, and changed in heart and in life, and regains a worthy place in society. This work is well written and is creditable to the author.

ETHELYN'S MISTAKE; or, The Home in the West. A Novel. By Mrs. Mary J. Holmes, author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Darkness and Daylight," etc. Published by G. W. Carleton, New York. For sale by John W. Pittock, Pittsburgh.

The reputation of the author will no doubt give this book a wide circulation, from the fact that she has written a number of popular works. The story, in some respects, is well told, and presents admirable traits, but some may be disposed to question her views of Western Society, as hardly being up to the general characteristics of that portion of the West, embodied in the plot of the novel. The story repesents the heroine following the object of her earliest attachment to the West, where he has attained to power and position, and finally ends as might be expected. Mrs. Holmes writes in a style, pure as well as agreeable, and high toned. This work may also be found at the store of Henry Miner, Fifth avenue.

SACRED AND CONSTRUCTIVE ART: Its Origin and Progress. A Series of Essays. By Calvin N. Otis, Architect. Published by G. P. Putnam & Son, New York. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., Pittsburgh.

The principal objection to works relating to Art, in any form, is the tedious details, which become to the general reader dry and irksome. This work is prepared in a popularized form, and will be found very interesting, both to the non-professional reader, as well as by those bred in Art. The object of the work is to place in a simple and practical form, the cause, origin, nature, and objects of Constructive Art. The thought is elaborated that the peculiarities of architecture in the different ages of the world are the result of the circumstances and ideas of the people among whom they originated. Chapters are to be found on Spontaneous Art, Construction, Organization, and then we are treated with the art of the Greeks, the Romans, the early Christians, the Latin Church, and of our country. The suggestions are valuable, instructive, and entertaining, and we hope such works will multiply, as this field has heretofore been too sparingly occupied at least in a popular form.

THREE THOUSAND MILES THROUGH THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS. By A. K. McClure. Published by J. B. Lippencott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

The elegant manner in which this book is gotten up is enough to give the reader a favorable impression of its contents. But the book itself has intrinsic merits which ought to give it a wide circulation. Unlike books of European travels, it depicts new scenery, grand, picturesque, sublime. Nature is seen in a trip of this kind in all its grandeur and rugged simplicity. Col. McClure, the author, writes in that free and familliar style that an editor of a journal attains, crisp, fresh, and piquant. These letters indicate that Mr. McClure is a lover of nature and has been a close observer. The book contains much that is valuable, too, since the railroad is opened to the Pacific Coast, that will aid travelers passing over that grand route to proper conceptions of the country. The journey was made over a year ago, and proper time allowed to gather reliable information of the country. The views of Mr. McClure, how to deal with Indians, are worthy of consideration.

THE WHITE ROSE. By G. J. W. Melville. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

This nicely trimmed, handy volume, in paper covers, of Lippincott's Library of Select Novels, is a story of fashionable life. The author is one of the young and promising writers of England, whose name is becoming familiar to the readers of fiction. The book is well printed and convenient size.

THACKEREY'S WORKS. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York.

Harpers have just commenced the publication of the works of Thackerey in cheap form, something like the style of the late edition of Read's Novels. "Vanity Fair" and "The Virginians" have already appeared. Paper is white and good, print clear and attractive, and edges neatly trimmed. The merits of the great humorist's works need no commendation from us. Like Dickens his fame is established, and though the gifted author is dead, his works live and are extensively read. Both books are profusely illustrated. It is surprising that a stout book of this size can be furnished at the small price of fifty cents, but it only serves to illustrate what enterprising publishers are capable of doing. Miner can supply the works.

FOR HER SAKE. By F. W. Robinson. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York.

This work of fiction is better written than the morale of the story. The author has shown some genius in the construction of the plot, but he might have furnished a work with characters more agreeable to his admirers than those prominent in the story. The novel will most likely be extensively read in spite of its morbid character.

THE emigration from Liverpool during the week ending May 15th, it is reported, was of the most extensive character, the great bulk of the emigrants consisting of persons from Bremen and other German ports. Six steamers sailed during the week, and the number of passengers was 7,155, of whom 4,063 were from the continent of Europe, and the remainder English. Scotch and Irish. Of twelve ships which sailed, ten were under the provisions of the English Emigration Act, and sailed for America with 7,094 passengers; whilst two, which sailed not under the act, carried out 61 passengers, were destined for the Brazils and the West Indies. The English papers state that the number of applicants is enormous; many of them come from the manufacturing districts, and are bound for the Lowell mills, Massachusetts.

THE Bellefonte Republican says:

If the discussion must go on, why not begin at the foundation? Why not take the Legislative Record and show how every member voted on every bill? If any member, or members, received bribes, or voted for wicked and corrupt bills, for a price to them in hand paid, why not give the names of each and every one of them, and, at the same time, publish the price each one received? If the Commercial has chosen to attend to our household only, and to expose none but Republicans, it should know what it is doing, and should be able to give names, amount of money received, and the character of every bill voted for by these corruptionists, or forever hold its peace. Talk is cheap. Charges are easily made; but what does it all amount to in the absence of the necessary proof? Is it honest? Is it just and fair on the part of the Commercial to seek to throw suspicions upon, or blacken the character of any member of the Republican party by mere insinuations? Let us have the names of the guilty parties, and the evidence of their guilt. Give us these, or cease to trouble us further with the subject? * * * * It is not logical. It is not a manly way of fighting to create suspicions upon the character of these men, and turn them over to the mercy of the people, without any evidence of their guilt, and assign no reason for so doing except that your "first duty is to the Republican party."

To make charges, and then fail to prove them, weakens a cause. Our rule is to make no charges against any man until we first have the evidence in our possession to substantiate them. * * * Down with the corruptionists; but no false swearing, is our motto. Make out a case, or select some other subject.

THE Hollidaysburg Register, copying an article from the Pittsburgh Dispatch, says:

"It is a review of the course of the Pittsburgh Commereial, a professed Republican paper. The Blair County Radical during the past few months has used its feeble powers, through a pretended correspondence from Harrisburg, and editorially, in the same way as the Commercial, and only last week had a fulsome editorial approving the course of that disorganizing paper. In the language of the Dispatch, "We ask of the Radical that it will do one of two things; either drop its mask and turn Democrat, and thus quit a party it denounces as hopelessly corrupt, or else abstain from its wholesale and untruthful charges of corruption" against the Republican party."

THE Erie Gazette says: The Pitsburgh GAZETTE reads the Pittsburgh Commercial squarely out of the Republican party, on the charge that a Democrat is filling its chair editorial and prostituting its columns to Democratic uses. The Commercial does not deny the soft impeachment but is resorting to certificates of character from private correspondents, instead of relying upon the justice of its cause. The Pittsburgh GAZETTE is emphatically correct, and its course is endorsed by the Republican party of Allegheny county, which does not propose to swallow any such "True Republicanism" as Democratic editors manufacture.

THE Beaver Dam (Wisconsin) Argus, alluding to the accidental death of Mr. Prichard, near that place, says: "There is something sadly strange about the fate of this family. Mr. Prichard's grandfather was killed while felling a tree; a few years since one of his sisters and her child were burned to death, and another sister lost a child by drowning. Such a chapter of fatal accidents seldom occurs in one family."

MECHANICAL MEDICAL APPLIANCES.

There are certain phases of disease, and certain diseased conditions of the human system, which proceed from displacement and mal-position of some of the various organs of the human body. These are not remediable by the usual and ordinary methods used for the cure of other ailments; but require some mechanical stay or support to maintain the parts in position until they are healed. Prominent among these may be classed a displacement called hernia, or rupture, which is a protrusion of part of the bowel, and which must be returned and kept to its place by some outward support which should be properly adjusted in order to secure immunity from inconvenience and danger. The prevalence of this condition is now very common and should be attended to immediately on its appearance, not only because of the present inconvenience which its produces, but also in consequence of the usual danger of strangulation which is rarely remedied but by a surgical operation.

Varicose veins in the legs and varicocele are other forms of structural changes which need immediate and scientific outward support, in order to afford relief or effect a cure. Each of these conditions are now as much within the pale of successful treatment as any of the other diseases to which mankind are liable.

Stooped shoulders may be cured at once by the use of my Shoulder Braces, which not only maintain the body in an erect position, but at the same time enlarge its capacity, and allow free and full expansion to the lungs, always a necessary condition to a healthy and perfect use of the pulmonary organs.

There are hundreds of females who would find great benefit from wearing these shoulder braces as they are so constructed as to take all the dragging weight from the back or spine and suspend the clothing from the shoulders. Those who use my shoulder braces need not wear suspenders, as they answer the double purpose of shoulder brace and suspenders: in fact they are the best suspenders ever invented. Sold and applied at

SCIENCE ADVANCES.

As soon as an article purporting to be of utility has been tested, and its merits endorsed by public opinion, unprincipled parties endeavor to replenish their depleted purses by counterfeiting, and substituting a spurious for the genuine article. Some time since, mercury, in the disguise of pills, powders, &c., was given for all diseases of the stomach and liver, while quinine was freely administered for the chills. At length HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS made its advent, and an entire new system of healing was inaugurated. The beneficial effects of this valuable preparation were at once acknowledged, and mineral poisons suffered to sink into that obscurity to which an enlightened age has consigned them. There have been many spurious Bitters palmed upon the community, which, after trial, have been found perfectly worthless, while HOSTETTER'S has proved a blessing to thousands, who owe to it their restoration to health and happiness.

For many years we have watched the steady progress of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS in public estimation, and its beneficient effects as a cure for all complaints arising from the stomach of a morbid nature, and we are free to say that it can be relied upon as a certain relief and remedy. Its proprietors have made the above preparation after years of careful study and plitting, and are now reaping the reward claimed by this valuable specific and which they so richly merit. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it therefore demands the attention of the afflicted.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, June 4, 1869.

Gold, with the opening quotation at 134¾, seems to have touched the lowest point for the present. The market fluctuated from 137¾ to 138¼, but at the close the market was strong at 138⅜@138½. A bull clique in gold has again been formed, ready to advance the market just as soon as either the Government diminishes its sales, or as soon as the principal operators have bought enough of cheap gold to give them a better start. The programme seems to be, to advance the market rapidly for a point or two, and then hammer the market with a few large sales to create a new short interest. War rumors from Cuba, false dispatches from England, and the like, will accomplish the rest. Had we not such an enormous foreign trade balance against us, these matters would frighten none but the timid, but as it is there is also just cause for fear that some days this season higher rates for gold will prevail.

Government bonds are dull at the decline of gold, but remain steady. The stock market being in a critical condition, bonds would suffer likewise, in the event of a heavy decline, and this makes investors and dealers careful. It is only the foreign bankers who sustain the market here for the purpose of propping the market in Europe.

The long pending negotiations of the Penna. Central and Fort Wayne, for the purpose of leasing the latter, were concluded to-day. What effect this will have on the street (outside speculators) remains to be seen. It is confidently expected by parties well able to judge, that the force of speculation in this stock has spent itself, and all that remains is to sell at the highest possible prices to European investors. In Penna Central a gigantic bull operation was to be carried out, but failed by the refusal of responsible parties to carry the stock for a specified time at low interest.

Money is still easy, but only first class paper finds a ready sale.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, ERIDAY, June 4, 1869.

The general markets are quiet and dull, with but little prospect of any improvement. It will be observed that Wheat is again declining in Chicago, owing, it is said, to unfavorable advices from Europe. This is said to be one of the worst seasons for millers experienced for many years, and many of them in the west have been forced to the wall. It seems that Wheat has all along ruled relatively higher than Flour, and, as a consequence, there was no margin, and many of the large western mills, it is said, have been running at a loss for several months. Many of them, as the saying is, kept "pegging away," in hopes that the market would turn in their favor, but instead of this it grew worse and worse, until at last they were forced to suspend.

APPLES—Fair to choice, $5@8.

APPLE BUTTER—75@$1,00, as to quality.

BUTTER—In rather better supply and dull and lower. We now quote good to prime Roll at 20@23.

BEANS—Dull at $2@2,50.

CARBON OIL—Is quoted at 28@29 for standard brands, in a jobbing way.

CORNMEAL—$1,50@1.75 per cwt.

CHEESE—Sales of Western Reserve, at 18@20; and New York Goshen at 23@24.

DRIED FRUIT—Is quiet and unchanged. Peaches, 14 for quarters: 15 for mixed and 18 for prime halves. Apples, 13@15.

EGGS—Sales at 18@19.

FEATHERS — Live Geese Feathers may be quoted at 85, to the trade, and the usual advance for small lots in store.

FLOUR—Is rather dull and dealers generally are anxious to realize, while prices are unchanged. Spring Wheat at $6@7. and Winter Wheat at $7@8. The Pearl Mill Prices for fresh ground flours are as follows: Pearl Mill three star, green brand, in barrels, $9,40 and in sacks $9,10; double extra of selected amber and white winter wheat, in barrels $8,30, and in sacks $8,00; choice selected red winter wheat flour, in barrels $7,70, and in sacks $7,40; choice spring wheat flour in barrels $7,00 and in sacks $6,70. The Pittsburgh City Mill prices are as follows: Choice white winter wheat flour in barrels, $8,30, and in sacks $8,00; choice red winter wheat flour in barrels $7,40, and in sacks $7,15; choice spring wheat flour in barrels $6,90, and in sacks $6,65 per barrel.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged; $1,35@1,40 for Red Winter. Oats in good supply and dull; sales at 66@67, to arrive, buyers furnishing sacks; and 72@73 in store. Ear Corn is unchanged at 78@80 for prima Yellow on wharf and track, and 85 in store. Rye dull; $1,15@1,20. Barley—little or none offering.

HAY—Drooping: sales at Allegheny Diamond market of 28 loads at $27@30 per ton.

HOMINY—Almost out of season; nominal at $4,75@5 per bbl.

HUSKS—Sales corn husks at 3¼.

HEMP—Sales at $215.

The Insane.

AN ACT to provide for the admission of certain classes of the insane into hospitals for the insane in this Commonwealth, and their discharge therefrom.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted &c., That insane persons may be placed in a hospital for the insane by their legal guardians, or by their relatives or friends in case they have no guardians, but never without the certificate of two or more reputable physicians, after a personal examination, made within one week of the date thereof, and this certificate to be duly acknowledged and sworn to or affirmed before some magistrate or judicial officer, who shall certify to the genuineness of the signature and to the respectability of the signers.

SEC. 2. That it shall be unlawful, and be deemed a misdemeanor in law, punishable by a fine of not exceeding one hundred dollars, for any superintendent, officer, physician or other employe of any insane asylum to intercept, delay or interfere with, in any manner whatsoever, the transmission of any letter or other written communication addressed by an inmate of any insane asylum to his or her council, residing in the county in which the home of the patient is, or in the city or county in which the asylum is located.

SEC. 3. On a written statement, properly sworn to or affirmed, being addressed by some respectable person to any law judge, that a certain person then confined in a hospital for the insane is not insane, and is thus unjustly deprived of his liberty, the judge shall issue a writ of habeas corpus, commanding that the said alleged lunatic be brought before him for a public hearing, where the question of his or her alleged lunacy may be determined, and where the onus of proving the said alleged lunatic to be insane shall rest upon such persons as are restraining him or her of his or her liberty.

SEC. 4. Whenever any person is acquitted on a criminal suit, on the ground of insanity, the jury shall declare this fact in their verdict, and the court shall order the prisoner to be committed to some place of confinement for safe keeping or treatment, there to be retained until he may be discharged in the manner provided in the next section.

SEC. 5. If, after a confinement of three month's duration, any law judge shall be satisfied by the evidence presented to him that the prisoner has recovered, and that the paroxysm of insanity in which the criminal act was committed was the first and only one he had experienced, he may order his unconditional discharge; if, however, it shall appear that such paroxysm of insanity was preceded by at least one other, then the court may, in its discretion, appoint a guardian of his person, and to him commit the care of the prisoner, said guardian giving bonds for any damage his ward may commit, Provided always, That in case of homicide or attempted homicide the prisoner shall not be discharged unless in the unanimous opinion of the superintendent and managers of the hospital, and the court before which he or she was tried, he or she has recovered and is safe to be at large.

SEC. 6. Insane persons may be placed in a hospital by order of any court or law judge, after the following course of proceedings, namely: On statement, in writing, of any respectable person, that a certain person is insane, and that the welfare of himself or of others requires his restraint, it shall be the duty of the judge to appoint, immediately, a commission, who shall inquire into and report upon the facts of the case. This commission shall be composed of three persons, one of whom at least shall be a physician and another a lawyer; in their inquisition they shall hear such evidence as may be offered touching the merits of the case, as well as the statements of the party complained of or of his counsel; if, in their opinion, it is a suitable case for confinement, the judge shall issue his warrant for such disposition of the insane person as will secure the object of the measure.

SEC. 7. On statement, in writing, to any law judge, by some friend of the party, that a certain person placed in an hospital under the fifth section is losing his bodily health, and that consequently his welfare would be promoted by his discharge, or that his mental disorder has so far changed its character as to render his further confinement unnecessary, the judge shall make suitable inquisition into the merits of the case, and, according to its results, may or may not order the discharge of the person.

SEC. 8. Persons placed in any hospital for the insane may be removed therefrom by parties who have become responsible for the payment of their expenses: Provided, That such obligation was the result of their own free act and accord, and not of the operation of law, and that its terms require the removal of the patient in order to avoid further responsibility.

SEC. 9. If it shall be made to appear to any law judge that a certain insane person is manifestly suffering from the want of proper care or treatment, he shall order such person to be placed in some hospital for the insane, at the expense of those who are legally bound to maintain such insane person; but no such order shall be made without due notice of the application therefor shall have been served upon the persons to be affected thereby and hearing had thereon.

SEC. 10. If the superintendent or officers of any hospital for the insane shall receive any person into the hospital after full compliance with the provisions of this act, no responsibility shall be incurred by them for any detention in the hospital.

SEC. 11. That nothing in this act shall be construed so as to deprive any alleged lunatic or habitual drunkard of the benefit of the writ of habeas corpus or trial by jury, or any other remedy guaranteed to alleged lunatics or habitual drunkards by any existing laws or statutes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

APPROVED—The twentieth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine.

JOHN W. GEARY.

COLONEL SARMIENTO, President of the Argentine Republic, writes to his friends in Massachusetts that the worst accounts of the barbarity of Lopez are fully borne out by the facts; that he is indeed a bloody, unnatural tyrant, conspicuous even in South America for his vices and cruelties. His talents are considerable, and he has trained himself to govern and his people to obey, so that foreigners who judge only by his plausible exterior have been much deceived concerning him.

Lightning Conductors.

The New York Tribune explains the received theories of electricity and the use of lightning rods, in an able and extended article, from which we condense as follows:

The most important law of electricity is, that it seeks what is called a state of equilibrium; that is, if we consider it a single fluid, that it tends to diffusion in equal proportions throughout all matter; or if we choose to adopt the theory of two distinct fluids, then that these two fluids tend to unite in equal proportions everywhere. When electricity is so diffused, or (if there be two fluids) when they are so united, no electrical effects are observable, and there is then a state of rest or equilibrium. But this state of rest is constantly disturbed by the operations of nature—by evaporation, changes in temperature, friction, motion of all kinds, even the movement of our bodies; and currents of electricity are immediately set in motion to neutralize the disturbance. These currents may be of such low tension as to admit of detection only by the aid of the most delicate apparatus; or they may be developed with such spasmodic irregularity and force as to interfere with the use of the telegraph; or, again, with such constancy of direction and tension as to be made use of in sending messages on the wires. Finally, in a state of extreme tension, they exhibit themselves to us in the form of explosions or discharges of lightning.

The insulation of lightning-rods is not only an absurdity—as indeed Dr. Franklin perceived a hundred years ago, when it was first suggested—but it is also a grave error; because the insulators, to some extent, arrest the flow of currents of rarified electricity, which it is the true function of the lightning-rod to facilitate. On the other hand, the insulator amounts to nothing as a barrier against a discharge of lightning, which can either pass brough it or leap the short distance between the rod and building.

Lightning-rod men frequently refer to the insulation of telegraph wires as showing the necessity of insulating lightning-rods, but the cases are not parallel. The object of insulating telegraph-wires is to postpone the restoring of the equilibrium, by preventing the electric currents from taking the shortest course from pole to pole of the battery; whereas the purpose of a lightning-rod is to promote the restoration of the equilibrium as rapidly as possible. If the rod be insulated, the "non-conducting" substance between the rod and building intercepts and stops the flow of currents of rarified electricity from the building to the rod, and thence to the atmosphere and vice versa, thus permitting a continued disturbance of the equilibrium of the building, under the influence of a "thunder-cloud," until a discharge of lightning takes place. Then the fluid has sufficient force or tension to overcome the obstacle which the insulators present, and an explosion into or from the building is the necessary consequence. To insulate the lightning rods, therefore, is to fasten the safety-valve and render it inoperative.

To prevent a discharge from leaving the road and passing through the building, something more must be done than to attempt to keep it out by erecting such a flimsy and insignificant barrier. The road must be arranged so as to present points for the reception and discharge of electricity at the extremities of the building, both above and below, and the different terminations in the ground must be connected by rods lying across the roof, so that lightning can be provided with a path in a horizontal direction, which, being continuous, will be preferred to any series of detatched masses of conducting matter contained within the building.

In constructing and application, lightning rods should be simple, substantial, and durable, and any metal is a sufficiently good conductor for this purpose.

If a rod of any metal be rightly constructed and judiciously applied, there is no danger of a discharge of lightning leaving it for any less perfect conductor within the building, and it is only those substances which are poorer conductors than the metal that are injured by the passage of electricity upon them.

Every one can understand why the upper extremity of a rod is pointed, and on reflection should easily preceive the usefulness of other points at intervals along the line of the rod.

The operation of the points is substantially the same whether the currants of electricity are flowing from the earth to the atmosphere and clouds, or vice versa; and those currants tend to circulate with the greatest rapidityand intensity just previous to a discharge of lightning. The lightning rod, therefore, should have an intimate connection with all matter in the vicinity, and be so contrived as to have the greatest attainable capacity to promote and facilitate the circulation of rarified electricity, so as, if possible, to forestall the discharge by restoring the equilibrium silently.

State Politics.

The Bellefonte Republican says:

We take it for granted that Judge Williams, who is already upon the Bench, will be our candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court. We are satisfied that no better man than Judge Williams can be found for the position. The contest for Governor has narrowed down to two candidates. Our present excellent Governor, General John W. Geary and General John F. Hartranft, now Auditor General of the State. They are both good men, and either of them, if nominated, shall have our most enthusiastic support; but we cannot refrain from giving it as our opinion, that General Hartranft would make the strongest candidate, and give us the State by an unprecedented majority.

Governor Geary has made a good, nay more, he has made a most excellent Governor; he has paid off more of the State debt during his administration than any of his predecessors, and the tax-payers of the State know it. We can re-elect him but not so easily as we can General Hartranft.

To Clear a Room of Mosquitoes.

A writer in a South Carolina paper says: I have tried the following, and find it works like a charm: Take of gum camphor a piece about one-third the size of an egg, and evaporate it by placing it in a tin vessel, holding it over a lamp or candle, taking care that it does not ignite. The smoke will soon fill the room and expel the mosquitoes. One night I was terribly annoyed by them, when I thought of and tried the above, after which I never saw or heard them that night, and next morning there was not one to be found in the room, though the window had been left open all night.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be properly used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 325 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. mv19:151-d&F

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

THE GAZETTE is furnished in the city the six days of the week for 15 cents per week; by mail, $8 per annum: 3 mos., $2.

Scarce.—Police news was an extremely scarce article in the city yesterday.

Cheap.—Strawberries sold for twenty cents per quart on the South Side yesterday.

A trespasser on the Allegheny Park grounds was arrested and fined five dollars yesterday.

Disorderly Cases.—There were fourteen cases disposed of at the Mayor's morning court yesterday.

Money to Loan.—We have $10,000 to loan on first class city property. Brown and Lambie, 114 Fifth avenue.

Furnished House in Country.—We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of S. R. McClean's furnished house for sale, in another column.

Street Fight.—A couple of laborers got into a fight in front of a beer saloon in the Second ward, Allegheny, yesterday morning, for which they were arrested and fined two dollars each by the Mayor, They paid the amount.

Run Over.—James Marshall, an elderly man, was run over on Thirty-Eighth street, yesterday, about noon, by a two horse team, belonging to McKee & Douglas, which at the time was running away. He was not seriously injured.

Wanted—Situation.—By a young man as book-keeper or assistant book-keeper, good penman, and has had several years experience in store and bank. Can furnish good reference and security, if required. Address box A GAZETTE office, or call at the GAZETTE Counting Room.

Assault and Battery.—John Blackman made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging Thomas James with assault and battery. The parties reside at Five Mile Run, and the prosecutor alleges that the accused struck him in the mouth with his fist without just cause or provocation. A warrant was issued.

K. O. M.—The Knights of Mystery, an organization which numbers hundreds of our very first young men and citizens, will hold a grand pic nic under the auspices of the J. H. McCausland Council No. 1, at McFarland's Grove on the 10th inst. None but Knights will be admitted, and we anticipate a splendid time for those who attend.

A Ferocious Canine.—Alice Trainor, residing in the Fifth ward, appeared before Alderman Lynch yesterday, and made information against John Brooks for keeping a ferocious dog. The canine in question first exhibited symptoms of an evil spirit by attacking and severely biting a little daughter of the prosecutrix. Warrant issued.

Beat Him.—John Bergstresser alleges John O'Brien, while in an intoxicated condition, met him in the street day before yesterday, and, without ceremony, knocked him down, a greeting rather more forcible than agreeable. A warrant was issued by Alderman Lynch for the arrest of O'Brien, who is now reposing in jail awaiting a hearing.

Tore It Down.—C. H. Simmons alleges that Augustus Kenna tore down and maliciously destroyed a constable's notice of sale, which he had just posted up in a prominent place to attract attention. Alderman Lynch issued a warrand for the arrest of Kenna for malicious mischief.

The Munson Lightning Rod.—The late Col. Andrews, President of Kenyon College, said of the Munson Lightning Rod: "I do not know how a rod could be made to combine more of the requisites of protection against lightning. It will certainly go into general use." Manufactured by Lockhart & Co., 234 Penn street, Pittsburgh.

A Defaulter.—A tax collector in one of the new wards of the city is reported to be a defaulter to the city in the sum of $2,500. His bondsmen called on Chief Hague yesterday and stated that the aforesaid collector had left the city, and requested him to telegraph along the different lines of railroad to have him arrested. He then went to the Treasurer's office to ascertain the exact amount of the deficiency. We withhold the name at present, as there may be some mistake in the matter.

To be Sold.—The Neptune Engine will probably be sold to the authorities of the borough of McKeesport. The agent of the Amoskeag Company, into whose hands it fell, after the disbandment of the organization, offered to sell it for two thousand dollars. The citizens of Mckeesport, learning from the experiences of the last few months the great need of a fire department, held a meeting last Thursday evening, at which this amount was secured, and the purchase, we believe, ordered to be made immediately.

The undersigned having examined the credentials of the Rev. J. C. Keeney, agent for the "Orphans' Home" at Lauderdale Springs, Mississippi, cheerfully commend him to the attention and his cause to the sympathies and help of our citizens in general:

Sylvester F. Scovell, pastor of Presbyterian Church.
Wm. M. Young, pastor Baptist Church.
Isaac Banks, pastor Baptist Church.

To Knight Templars.

HEADQ'RS PITTSBURGH COMMANDERY, NUMBER 1.

GENERAL ORDERS.

1. The Knights who are to attend the Grand Conclave at Erie, will assemble at the Asylum, Fifth avenue, at 5 o'clock A. M., and march to the Union Depot, Pittsburgh, Pa., on Tuesday, June 8th, 1869, at 7 o'clock A. M., in fatigue dress.

2. On parade, at Erie, the officers will wear full Templar uniform, the rest of the Sir Knights will wear full uniform, with the exception, that instead of chapeaus, they will wear regulation caps.

3. On the arrival of the train at Erie, the Sir Knights will be drawn up in line, and march to headquarters, in full regalia.

It is expected that the members of Pittsburgh Commandery will so deport themselves on the excursion, as to shed new lustre on her name—being the oldest in the State. Let us, by our example, still retain the proud position she has always borne for courteous and true knightly bearing.

4. Sir Charles W. Batchelor having been appointed Chief Marshal, with Sir W. D. Spiking and Sir Wm. Neeper as aids, have full power respecting orders r parade, &c., and will be obeyed accordingly. By order of

D. W. C. CARROLL,
Eminent Commander.

THE COURTS.

District Court—Judge Kirkpatrick.

FRIDAY, June 4.—In the case of Langfitt vs. Deitz, previously reported, the jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $225. Motion for a new trial and reasons filed.

In the case of Cooper & Williams, for use of McElroy, Dickson & Co., vs. Knob, previously reported, the jury found for the defendant.

Schmidt & Co. vs. Boehm. Action on book account for lumber and merchandise sold and delivered. Jury withdrawn and case continued.

Canfield vs. Barton, garnishee of J. F. and W. R. Troy. Action on an execution attachment, to recover $7,380, alleged to be in the hands of said garnishee. The jury found that garnishee had in his possession $119.37 liable to attachment in this case, on payment of which the garnishee to be discharged from all further liability to defendants.

Quarter Sessions Court.

The Court of Quarter Sessions and Oyer and Terminer will open on Monday next. The jury has been summoned for that day, and the following cases on March calendar will be disposed of. Parties interested will do well to be on hand promptly, as District Attorney Pearson is determined to dispose of the old business in the shortest possible time:

Turned Adrift.

There are some men who seem to think and act on the principal that roguery is essential to success. One of this character (a native of another locality we are glad to know) appeared in our city yesterday, but left in a few hours. It seems he came from Louisville, Kentucky, where he had purchased a lot of cattle. In that city he employed a boy, about fifteen years of age, son of a widow, to accompany him to Pittsburgh with the drove, agreeing to pay him a certain amount for the trip besides all the expenses of coming and returning. When Pittsburgh was reached, the boy, according to agreement, expressed his intention of going, and asked for the amount due him. Instead of settling it, however, he was gruffly dismissed with the advice to find his way home as he liked. The drover then disappeared in a train eastward bound, and left the boy without a cent of money, in a strange city, not one of whose inhabitants he knew. After wandering around for some time, the little fellow brought up at the Mayor's office and related his story, giving his name as Robert Abrams. The Mayor, feeling confident of the truthfulness of the statement, kindly took charge of him; until he could be sent back to Louisville.

A New Presbyterian Project.

There has long been a feeling among the general family of the Presbyterians, of this vicinity, that they ought to sink minor differences and unite in an enterprise for the education of their daughters, worthy of Presbyterian intelligence, wealth and liberality. We see by an address issued in the Presbyterian Banner, of this week, that the church at Shady Side, through their pastor, Rev. W. T. Beatty, is offering twenty thousand dollars towards the hundred thousand they deem necessary, their offer being conditioned on the location of the institution in their vicinity. When we consider what this young church has already done in the way of construction and organized parochial effort, we regard this as very hopeful for a first bid. We only hope that we shall hear promptly from other quarters, each church stating how much will be given in case the question of location be decided adversely to its claim. The Shady Side prospectus is, as regards the unsectarian character of the teachings to be given, liberal enough. The Methodists and Episcopalians of Pittsburgh have, in this regard, set their Presbyterian friends a good example. Where so much turns upon our chosing, let us have a wide range of choice.

Something of Interest

To those contemplating investing in Real Estate. For the benefit of those of our readers contemplating investing in homes or real estate of any kind, we would suggest that they avail themselves of the advantages of the Pittsburgh Real Estate Register. It is a work published and circulated GRATIS by the enterprising and reliable real estate agents, Croft & Phillips, No. 139 Fourth avenue, and contains full particulars, prices and terms of all the property placed in their hands for disposal, amounting to over one million dollars. The above valuable reference is the only publication on the subject published in Western Pennsylvania. It is issued on the first of January, May and September of each year, and as the circulation is gratuitous, all persons interested in that line should get a copy. The May number is now ready for distribution, and can be obtained free by calling at their office as above, or it will be sent by mail to any address.

A Careless Father.

Yesterday afternoon, one of the Mayor's police arrested John Moran on Fifth avenue, and conducted him to the watch house. John, it appears, resides on Twentieth street, in the Twelfth ward, and was out shopping. He had with him his little daughter, scarce two years old, and was so drunk when discovered by the officer that he could scarcely walk. He was kept at the Captain's office until he got sober enough to walk without staggering, when he was discharged. The next time he goes shopping he should either keep sober or leave the baby at home.

Important Revenue Decision.

An important case has just been decided in Cincinnati, in which an omission whereby the Government is not wronged in anywise, is declared not to be a violation of the excise law. We herewith print the Cincinnati Commercial's report of the Judge's ruling, rendering judgment in favor of the claimant:

Judge Leavitt, yesterday morning, rendered a decision in the case of the Government against one hundred and seventy barrels of whisky, claimed by S. N. Fowler, of this city. He said: "As the case now stands, there is really no ground upon which the forfeiture of the whisky can be sustained. The only evidence before the Court is as to the failure of Fowler to let the tubs stand empty for twenty-four hours, as required by the law. This may be considered a technical violation, but it has been shown that the distillery, in all its operations, has been conducted with rather more than usual honesty. There is no charge that one gallon of whisky ever went ont of the establishment without the full payment of taxes. It is shown by the predominance of testimony, if Mr. Fowler himself is a credible witness, that as soon as he became aware of the omission in regard to the tubs, he supplied new ones.

"It also appears," said the Judge, "that the operations of the distillery were carried on, to some extent, under the supervision of those connected with the Revenue Department. The Assessor himself was fully apprised of the manner in which the business was conducted. It is clear there never was any fraud intended, and as the Government has lost nothing, I cannot reconcile it with my duty or conscience to render a decree of forfeiture against this property; and if I did so, the claimant would have the right to apply to the Revenue Department for a remission of the forfeiture, which it has the power to grant. Judgment is, therefore, rendered in favor of the claimant."

The Fifth Avenue Billiard Hall.

Elsewhere we publish the business card of the Fifth Avenue House and Billiard Hall, No. 65 Fifth avenue, opposite the Opera House. This is the most attractive place of popular resort in the city, and receives a large share of patronage. The billiard room is separate and apart from the saloon, and is beautiful and inviting in appearance. It is supplied with new tables, the very best manufactured in this country, which combine all the latest improvements and patents, and must prove attractive to the lovers of the noble and exhilerating game of ball and cue. Mr. C. R. Davidson, the accomplished and courteous billiardist, presides over the room, and is ever ready to welcome his friends to his elegant new quarters. The hall is large and commodious and thoroughly ventilated from sides and roof, making it the coolest place in the city. The saloon is a model of cleanliness and good taste, and nothing but the very best of wines and liquors are sold; while the beer, ale and temperance drinks are of first quality. Mr. W. H. Stroup, a gentleman who is deservedly popular, and one who thoroughly understands how to cater to the enjoyment of patrons, is the genial manager of this magnificent establishment, and takes especial care that all patrons form a good opinion of the Fifth Avenue House and Billiard Hall.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The entertainment at the Opera House last evening, by Maffitt and Bartholomew's comic Opera Troupe, was of a highly amusing character. Mr. Maffitt, in his line of business, is without a rival. He is unequaled as a pantomimist, and his conception of the ridiculous is exceedingly acute. "Jeannette and Jeannotte" was presented last evening to a large and fashionable audience. In addition to the Pantomimic troupe, Mons. and M'lle Coutellier, the wonderful gymnasts, appear every evening.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—The entertainments at the Pittsburgh Theatre during the present week have been of an exceedingly amusing character. A splendid varieties bill, in which John Dennier, Gus. Williams, Valentine Love and Miss Nellie Maskell and Miss Maggie Willett appear nightly. All of the above named celebrities will appear at the matinee this afternoon.

MUSEUM.—To-day is the last of the season at Burnell's Museum, and in honor of the occasion Madame Nora will present every lady and miss attending during the day with a beautiful glass present, the handsomest of the celebrated Bohemian glass blower. We are gratified to learn that Major Burnell has been so liberally patronized by our citizens, as he has spared neither labor nor expense to contribute to the amusement.

The Life Insurance Question—Some Facts in the Case.

The Eastern companies require you to pay in advance of any necessity. They take your money away and entrust it to strangers of whom they know nothing.

The Co-operative does not require payment until the money is needed to pay the heirs of your co-operators—it keeps the surplus at home and makes actual loans to its policy holders.

Eastern companies make you contract to pay two or three times the admitted value of your insurance, and give you the word of the agent that your 'dividends' will make it all right.

The Co-operative charges only the actual cost of insurance, and contracts in the policy to give the entire surplus to policy holders.

A young mutual is necessarily weak and an excessive mortality will destroy it.

The Co-operative is as strong in the beginning as a mutual with millions of surpluses.

To live through an epidemic all other companies must suspend business and dividends. The Co-operative can keep on the even tenor of its way, and its policies will command a premium.

All this and more will be made plain to any one at the office of the Co-operative Life Insurance Company, 128 Smithfield street. Call and see.

Done Him.

Wm. Douds, a farmer from Beaver county, brought a lot of potatoes to the city yesterday on a flatboat. The craft had hardly touched the wharf, (so he states,) when he was approached by a young man of business appearance, who quickly introduced himself as James Dunn, son of a prominent citizen in Beaver, well known to the farmer. Mr. Dunn said he was engaged in the produce business in Allegheny. A bargain was soon struck, and the potatoes hauled away. Mr. Doud saw the last of them disappear, and in a reasonable time afterwards started for the mythical produce establishment to collect his bill. He failed to discover it, but did discover that the potatoes had been sold in Allegheny for a less price than had been paid for them. The supposed Dunn, he also states, subsequently turned out to be a youthful imposter named Sanders, who managed, however, to keep out of the way, and has not been observed about since the transaction. The case came before Alderman McMasters yesterday afternoon, who issued a warrant for the arrest of Dunn alias Sanders, on a charge of false pretense preferred by Mr. Doud.

The Monument.

We have been informed that the delay in the business touching the Soldiers' Monument is occasioned by the failure thus far to receive the charter incorporating the Association. The charter was granted by the last Legislature, several months ago, and received the official signature, but as yet has never been sent here. We believe a committee was appointed at a meeting of the Association held in March last, to attend to the matter. Perhaps they have forgotten their duty by the press of other business. If so, a new appointment might be made with advantage. It is proposed, we understand, to hold a meeting, possibly next week, when if the paper is not forthcoming, the Association will proceed with the work under the old organization. The whole matter has dragged its weary length along, about enough now. Let us have the Monument somewhere and without further delay.

Unrivaled.

The reputation of Pittsburgh restaurants and dining saloons is equal to that of any city in the United States, not alone on account of our excellent Market facilities, but because we have a few establishments in the city, the proprietors of which take a special pride in their business and endeavor to conduct it in such a manner as receives the approval of their patrons; and the others, if they desire to do a living business, must approximate to something near the standard established by these men. Our friend Holtzheimer, of the Continental, Fifth avenue, next door to the Postoffice, is one of the leading spirits in the business, and the Continental is the leading establishment.

Cheap Goods.

It is the privilege of consumers, and in fact a duty, also, to purchase goods wherever they can be bought the cheapest; but when we speak of cheap goods, we do not mean, as is commonly understood by the expression, goods of an inferior article, which are sold at low rates, because it is not always the goods bought for the least money that are the cheapest; but buy where you can get the best article for the least money. The establishment of W. W. Moorhead, No. 81 Market street, is constantly supplied with a full stock of lace goods, hosiery, gloves, and trimmings of the very best quality, and the proprietor will not permit any establishment in the city to undersell him.

Queensware and Pottery.

The demand for the celebrated Keystone Pottery queensware has so rapidly increased during the past year that unless the manufacturing facilities of the establishment are increased the firm will be unable to supply the trade in a few years. The reputation of this ware is rapidly spreading through the entire country, and its fine finish, strength and durability, combined with its cheapness, makes it a most desirable article. Messrs. S. M. Kier & Co., the proprietors, No. 363 Liberty street, have a large assortment on hand, to which they invite the attention of purchasers. It is as white as alabaster, hard as adamant, and as strong as ironstone china.

To the Trade.

Mr. John Megraw, wholesale and retail dealer in tobacco, segars, pipes, &c., No. 45 Hand street, respectfully calls the attention of the trade, as well as the consumer, to his fine brands of segars and tobacco, which he is selling at prices which defy competition. All the best brands of Navy, Cavendish and other chewing tobaccos, as well as the choicest foreign and domestic segars, can be obtained at this establishment. His stock of pipes and segar tubes is unsurpassed in this city, as any one may readily ascertain by a purchasing visit.

The Dexter Washing Machine defies competition. It will do all the washing of an ordinary family in one hour's time and less. It washes fine and coarse articles with equal facility. It is not liable to get out of order, and is sold at very reasonable prices. Call and see one at Thomas Merkle's, opposite the Fair Grounds, or W. W. Bradshaw, 122 Wood street.

Stationery, in endless variety, including all the latest styles of note and letter paper, with envelopes to match, can be purchased cheap at Col. J. D. Egan's Book, Stationery and Periodical Store, Sixth avenue, near Smithfield street.

Periodicals, Magazines, Library Books and in fact everything in the book and stationery line, are being sold cheap at the well known book emporium of Col. J. D. Egan Sixth avenue, near Smithfield street.

Remnants of dress goods, silks and poplins and wool goods, cheap at J. M. Burchfield & Co.'s.

Ladies Attention! Price Reduced.

We are pleased to be able to inform our readers this morning that the prices of dry goods—at least of a very desirable class of dry goods—have been reduced. Reduction of prices is never initiated save in a first-class house—an enterprising house—a house where the sales are so large that reduction can be afforded, and the proprietors so judicious as to give their customers the very best bargains attainable. In the present instance it is the popular firm of Bates & Bell, 21 Fifth avenue, which relieves the purchasing public. Messrs. Bates & Bell have lowered their rates on many of their most attractive dress goods fully 25 per cent. They are now receiving a large and very full stock of the finest fabrics of every description, which, while perhaps excelling any heretofore exhibited, can be bought at extremely moderate figures. To day we invite special attention to a beautiful assortment of American made Lenos, or wash poplins which are warranted to retain all their colors and wear in the most satisfactory manner. Some of these excellent goods, suitable for children's dresses, are selling at twenty-five cents per yard, while very attractive English Lenos are selling at the same rate. In fabrics for suits Messrs. Bates & Bell offer particular inducements. They have them plain, mottled, striped and figured in every variety. Grenadines with black ground form a handsome feature of this department. All varieties and colors of alpacas are on hand, to which, however, we need no more than allude to, as every lady knows 21 Fifth avenue to be the store par excellence for alpacas. Of silks there is a fresh and very superior assortment, comprising American black and foreign silks, Japanese silks of all patterns and colors, (the best selection in the city,) and the choicest evening silks of every shade. In writing of the alpacas it may be proper to state that the three most popular makes, the "Buffalo," "Grand Duchess" and "Dragon," are on hand—the second of which is new and superior to anything heretofore offered. Need we say to our lady readers where they can buy the best and finest goods at the lowest prices at all times? Scarcely; if they have seen the new stock at 21 Fifth avenue, they know why we should direct them there.

It is Seldom that we use the columns of this paper to "puff" or notice the "thousand and one" articles known as "Patent Medicines." We, however, vary from our rule in the present case, that we may call attention to the article known as "S. T.—1860—X., Plantation Bitters." We desire it understood that we do so without any solicitation or promise of benefit from the proprietor or other interested parties, We simply do it as an act of duty towards those who are laboring under physical disabilities, weakness, and the various complaints arising from impurities of the blood. Having used the Bitters at the instigation of a friend, (and, we confess, with some misgivings at the out set.) we found them a most valuable medical compound, and to our great satisfaction, accomplished the object for which they were used.

We have been using Seward & Bentley's Alisma a few weeks, and have come to the conclusion that there is one preparation for the hair that is good. It is an elegant dressing, and makes the hair dark and glossy, giving it a lively appearance. It is not as expensive as an ordinary hair oil, and far better to use.

AT Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania, on Friday evening, a house occupied by a family named Gibb, was struck by lightning. It passed down the chimney to the second floor, where it took an oblique course, passing through the hearth and first ceiling, and then struck Mrs. Gibb on the chin, passing down her breast, killing her almost instantly.

Explosive Oils.

Professor Chandler, analytical chemist to the New York Board, has been testing some specimets of illuminating oils in order to ascertain the explosive qualities. Seventeen samples were obtained from the same number of stores, of which seven were found to consist of benzine and naphtha sold under special names. This benzine is the most dangerous substance that can be employed in a dwelling, and has been the cause of all the frightful accidents, either when used by itself or as an impurity in kerosene. Various processes for rendering benzine and naphtha non-explosive have been patented, and rights of sale have been disposed of throughout the country. According to Professor Chandler, it is impossible by any means whatsoever to render these substances safe. The addition of a few grains of alum, potash, borax, alcohol, gum camphor, etc., to a barrel of benzine, does not change its dangerous character in the least. The experiment of pouring a little of the fluid into a bottle and applying a burning match, is no proof whatever; for to produce an explosion it is necessary to secure a certain ratio of air to benzine vapor, which it would not be possible to do in a bottle once in fifty times. Every oil that can be lighted with a match is unsafe for use. The various "patent safety lamps" which are warranted for the use of any oil (even benzine), are pronounced by the chemist to be wholly unreliable. Benzine and dangerous kerosene, he insists, are always unsafe, no matter what lamp may be used. One lamp may be a little safer than another, when in perfect order, but lamps will break, the oil will be spilled sometimes, accidents will happen, and the oil or its vapor will be brought in contact with the flame, when, if the oil is not safe, an accident is sure to result. One-half of the so-called "safety lamps" are no safer than others, while the remainder are safe only as long as they are subject to no carelessness in filling or handling. What is needed to prevent kerosene accidents is safe oil; with it all lamps will be safe. The remaining samples were average specimens of the kerosone oil usually sold in retail stores. They all contained more or less benzine, and consequently were dangerous in the same ratio.
